

Knoll

Barcelona® Couch

Designed in 1930, the Barcelona Couch shares the same simple elegance as the Barcelona Chair, exhibiting Ludwig Mies van der Rohe's command of line and material in any medium, from architecture to furniture. Mies, a trusted mentor to Florence Knoll when she was his architecture student at the Illinois Institute of Technology, later granted Knoll the production rights to the Barcelona Collection. Now a signature of the Knoll brand, these pieces have been built to Mies van der Rohe's exacting standards ever since.

Key Features

- 1. Cushions
Standard: Premium quality, highly resilient urethane foam with down-like Dacron polyester fiberfill.
Relaxed: Soft density, urethane foam blanketed with a non-woven fabric topper and an additional Dacron layer for a softer feel. Relaxed cushions are more supple and casual in appearance.
- 2. Upholstery
72 individual squares of fabric or leather from a single cowhide are cut, hand-welted, and hand-tufted.
- 3. Straps
Belting leather straps with edges dyed to match are stretched over a rubber webbing for cushion support.
- 4. Bolster
Standard: Bolster in matching leather or fabric is secured to cushion platform with straps and lock snaps.
Relaxed: Bolster in matching leather or fabric can be loose or secured to cushion platform with straps.
- 5. Frame
Platform is a Sapele Mahogany from Africa; legs are tubular stainless steel with a polished or ultra-matte onyx finish.
- 6. An Original Ludwig Mies van der Rohe Design
The frame is stamped with the Knoll logo and designer's signature ensuring lifetime authentication.
