PLETTRO

Paolo Rizzatto, 2022

With the PLETTRO collection, Alias and Paolo Rizzatto tackle a traditional subject, the domestic table with drawers, which becomes contemporary through a process of careful analysis and innovation from the typological and formal point of view. A very interesting option in contemporary life in which furniture, like the table, becomes increasingly transversal and the stage for very different occasions and activities.

Plettro and Plettro Desk feature a deconstructed top that becomes a very rigid beam structure, formed by two thin tops intersected by a series of wooden elements that divide up spaces into which the drawers slide. The tops of the home office tables are provided with a cable management system.
